

About Christopher Petitt

Christopher Petitt is a strategic management and financial consultant with lifelong passions for military and political history.

A former CPA and auditor of large financial institutions and an executive for a major hedge fund, Petitt has provided consulting on the causes and effects of the recent global financial crisis, public-private financing for domestic infrastructure, and infrastructure development in the West Bank.

He currently serves on the RAND Corporation Advisory Boards for the Center for Middle East Public Policy and Center for Corporate Ethics and Governance.

He has traveled extensively throughout Europe, Asia, and the Middle East. He now resides in Portland, Oregon.

For more information about Christopher or The Crucible of Global War, contact him at chris@christopherpetitt.com